پیکر شهید شاهرخ میساجی که توسط او پادشاهان حزب اله در قبالین به شهادت رسید

MARTYR MEESAGHI

طرح از: سعید درمپخش

گفت: «آن یار کز او گشت سردار بلند؛
جرمش این بود که اسرار هویدامی کرد!»

آنچه در این تصویر می بینید، پیکر شهید «حسین آله اسلامی» یکی از هواداران سازمان مجاهدین خلق
است که در زندان لوین پیش چشم نهیای زلفانی بنار کوبیده شد.

تصویر روی جلد و سخن بزرگ از شماره اول " کتاب جمعه " است .

... برخی از همکاران به من گفته اند هنگامی که برای حسین بازرگانی رفتن تمام
رهاسان را به گوش ایشان رساندیم، فریادش نشان به هوا برخاست و بسیاری کسان
آماده کمک شدند. و این هنگامی بود که صدیقر را منل عام کردند. ولی هنگامی که تعداد
فریادسازان سر به هراران برورد و منل عام را با یاسی به حتم رساند، نکوت همه را فرا
گرفت و دستپاچی که برای کمک پیش آمد کمین و کمین شدند. آری چنین است: وقتی جنابان
بدرستی بداند، از نظرهای بسیار میماند. هنگامی که ریح ها تحمل نپذیرشود آدمی
دیگر فریادها را نمی شنود. اساسی را کنگ میسند و کسی که اس صحنه را می بیند از هوش
سرود. اس کا ملاحظه می است. اما هنگامی که صاحب، همچون سل جاری شود، دیگر هیچ
کس به اعراض فریاد سر نمی دارد....

از مطالب اساسی اپوزیسیون مترقی خارج از کشور است، که در عین افتخاری ماهیت قرون

هموطن :

ما خارج از گودنشینان ، ایرانیان در تبعید ، نباید هرگز بخودمان رخصت دهیم که شنیدن اخبار هولناک مربوط به ایران برایشان امری عادی شود . ما باید یکسره و هـر لحظه و هر دم از خودسئوال کنیم : " اکنون که شاق راه عشق و آزادی را در سرزمین ما ن قلع و قمع میکنند ، فرهنگ و هویت چندین هزار ساله ما را مورد هجوم و غارت قرار داده اند ، سهم ما از سهمی این مصیبت ها چیست ؟ نقش مادر این نیروی نور علیه تاریکی چیست ؟ آیا باید با رنگین و طاقت فرمای همی فحایح و همی آنچه که باید انجام شود تا ایران رهائی باید بیوگرده های هموطنان داخل کشور باشد ؟ واگر چنین است ، آیا آنوقت ما جرئت داریم که نام ایرانی بر خود بنهیم ؟ " باید شهیدان را گرامی بداریم و نگذاریم که این زبان و مردان شجاع تاریخ به فراموشی سپرده شوند .

" ... تا بیده سرخ و سوخته در تنگنای بند

بر شاخ نسترن

ماه شکسته را

می بیند

در خلوت شبانه‌ی گلگشت

از شاخه‌های زخم‌گلی خون بیادگار

می چیند

تا مردوارهد مگراز درد

چون شاخه‌ی شکسته

سرمی نه‌دبه‌سینه‌ی دیوار

آرام، می نشیند:

تنه‌انه من شکسته‌ام اینجا

تنه‌انه من نشسته‌ام اینجا میان خون

چه شاخه‌ها شکسته در این دشت

چه زخم‌ها شکفته در این باغ

اینجا بها رسوخته بسیار است ..."

When there are no more memories of heroes and martyrs,
And when all life and all the souls of men and women are discharged from any part of the earth,
Then only shall liberty or the idea of liberty be discharged from that part of the earth,
And the infidel come into full possession.

IRAN TORTURE VICTIMS 'HANGED AFTER DEATH'

AMNESTY International has appealed to Mr Housein Mousavi, the Iranian Prime Minister, for a public ban on torture after receiving hundreds of reports on Iranian prisoners.

"Some had died under torture and then been hanged, apparently to make it appear that they had been legally executed," said an Amnesty spokesman in London yesterday.

Amnesty said 4,000 people were known to have been executed since the revolution in February, 1979, which toppled the Shah. But Iranian exile organisations claimed the figure was around 8,000.

In its appeal to the Prime Minister, Amnesty said that last year it received more than 200 detailed statements describing torture. Some of the reports were supported by photographs and medical reports.

There was evidence of special rooms in Teheran's notorious Evin Prison where tortures similar to those practised under the Shah were now being repeated.

'Ironing room'

There was the "ironing room" where prisoners were tied to a bed while revolutionary guards burned their backs, buttocks and soles of their feet with a hot iron.

There was also a "basement of truth" where cigarettes were used to burn prisoners. Other tortures included beating, kicking, banging prisoners' heads against walls, whipping with cables and mock executions.

Amnesty said that at least 255 people were reported to have been executed last month. And in its letter to Mr Mousavi it cited reports of people, including those held for political or religious reasons, being executed without trial.

Among the victims were members of the Baha'i faith which is not recognised by Iran's Shia Muslims, and Shokrollah Paknejad, secretary-general of the Iranian Association of Former Political Prisoners who spent many years in jail during the Shah's reign.

Amnesty repeated a request first made last October to be allowed to send delegates to Iran to have talks aimed at halting executions and other violations of human rights.

AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL SEEKS TO SEND MISSION TO IRAN IN EFFORT TO STOP EXECUTIONS

Amnesty International disclosed today (Monday, October 12, 1981) that [redacted] to send delegates to Tehran for talks with Iranian leaders in an effort to stop mass executions in that country.

The world-wide human rights movement, which has appealed for an end to the waves of executions, has asked Prime Minister Mahdavi-Kani to agree to a visit by a delegation.

The latest figures compiled by Amnesty International show more than 1,800 executions in less than four months, since June 20, 1981. In the whole of 1980 there were 1,229 known executions throughout the world, including 709 in Iran, the movement's International Secretariat said in London today.

More than 3,350 people are known to have been executed in Iran since the revolution of February 1979. That estimate, based on reports which have become known outside the country, is a minimum, Amnesty International said. The true total may well be higher, it added.

Amnesty International, which opposes the death penalty under all circumstances, has pointed out that many of those executed since the revolution had not received fair trials by internationally accepted standards. It has also called attention to recurrent reports of summary execution without trial.

During the reign of the late Shah, before the revolution, Amnesty International persistently called for public pressure to halt torture, executions and other abuses of human rights in Iran. Among those whose rights it defended were men who went on to become leaders in the Islamic Republic established since the revolution.

and Political Rights, no derogation under any circumstances is possible from the right to freedom of thought, conscience and religion or the right of a person not to be arbitrarily deprived of his life. The use of the death penalty cannot be justified by a threat to the social order or by an unproved "deterrent" effect.

streets of Tehran" were arrested at 1600 hours and taken to Tehran's Evin prison. At 2000 hours, according to the announcement, the sentence of death was passed and they were executed.

In an interview broadcast over Tehran radio on 18 September 1981, Mojtaba Mas'umi Tabrizi, the Iranian Revolutionary Prosecutor-General, is reported to have said that if members of a violent opposition group are captured,

"no delay will be made, for they will not be allowed to go to jail, be fed and rest for several months, thus wasting the treasury's funds. They will be tried in the streets. They have taken up Molotov cocktails and stood up against the Islamic Republic system. In such cases, they will be tried on the spot. By the time they get to the office of the public prosecutor, they will already have been tried and the sentence of death issued... Their death is a Anyone arrested in streets, during clashes, during armed demonstrations, including those who hide behind these armed bandits, strengthen them, guide them, provide them with Molotov cocktails or who try to get them away by cars, will be tried without the slightest hesitation the same evening in the streets. All it needs is to have two /Revolutionary/ Guards, functionaries or ordinary people as witnesses. Once the two witnesses testify these people have been involved in clashes, be it armed or as supporters, against the Islamic Republic order, it would be sufficient to have them sentenced to death the same evening and executed... I call on all provincial public prosecutors to adhere to this practice most definitely, otherwise they themselves will be punished..."

The International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights provides, in Article 6, that sentence of death shall not be imposed for crimes committed by persons below 18 years of age. This provision may not be derogated from under any circumstances (Article 4). But the execution of children now appears to have been given official sanction. On 20 September 1981 Asadollah Lajevardi, the Tehran Prosecutor-General, reportedly said: "Even if a 12-year-old is found participating in an armed demonstration, he will be shot. The age doesn't matter."

The application of the death penalty by the Iranian government is difficult to reconcile with United Nations General Assembly resolution 35/172 on arbitrary or summary executions. This resolution urges member states "to respect as a minimum standard the content of the provisions of Articles 6, 14 and 15 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and, where necessary, to review their legal rules and practices so as to guarantee the most careful legal procedures and the greatest possible safeguards for the accused in capital cases". The resolution also urges member states "to provide that no death sentence shall be carried out until the procedures of appeal and pardon have been terminated and, in any case, not until a reasonable time after the passing of the sentence in the court of first instance".

Although there is a high level of violence in Iran, this cannot be a reason for the suspension of fundamental human rights which Iran is required to provide its citizens under international law. Under the International Covenant on Civil

EXECUTIONS IN IRAN IN LIGHT OF INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS STANDARDS

More than 3,200 people have been executed in Iran since the revolution of February 1979. This figure, which is based on reports that have become known outside Iran, must be regarded as a minimum. Opposition sources say the total is much higher.

Since the events of June 1981 culminating in the dismissal of President Abolmohsen Bani-Sadr, the pace of executions has increased.

During the first three months of 1981, there were 1,229 known executions in 29 countries throughout the world; 709 of these were in Iran. In the three and a half months since 20 June 1981, there have been more than 1,600 known executions in Iran. During one weekend, Friday-Sunday, 18-20 September 1981, more than 300 people were known to have been executed.

Among those being executed in Iran are not only opponents of the government and members of ethnic and religious minorities such as the Baha'i faith, but people convicted of common crimes such as drug trafficking and robbery, and of sexual offences such as adultery and prostitution. Several hundred convicted drug offenders are reported to have been executed in 1980, and more than 200 so far in 1981.

Iran's mass executions are in violation of its obligations under international law. On 24 June 1975 Iran ratified the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights. The Covenant, in Article 14, provides for a number of minimum guarantees for a fair trial. Among these are the right of a defendant to have adequate time and facilities to prepare a defence and to be able to appeal to a high tribunal. These minimum guarantees apply a fortiori to trials in which the death penalty may be imposed. In Iran, however, executions appear to have taken place immediately after sentence, and in some cases without any formal trial.

A report published by Amnesty International in May 1980 examined the procedures of the Islamic Revolutionary Tribunals, which were established after the revolution and possess jurisdiction over all offences for which the death penalty may be imposed. The report found that defendants, many of whom had been executed, were consistently denied fair trials, including the opportunity to prepare or present an adequate defence. The report also stated that there was in practice no right of appeal and no effective presumption that defendants were innocent until proved guilty. In most cases executions were carried out almost immediately after imposition of the sentence, leaving little or no time for the defendant to appeal or petition for clemency.

Since the report was published, these abuses have continued. On 20 September 1981, for example, according to an official announcement broadcast over Teheran radio, two people "intending to demonstrate in the

The number of executions is almost mind-boggling. According to Amnesty International, Iran topped the list of known official executions in 1980. Amnesty International reported in October that, "In 1980, there were 1,229 known executions in 29 countries throughout the world; 709 of them were in Iran. In the three-and-a-half months since 20 June 1981, there have been more than 1,600 known executions in Iran. During one weekend, Friday-Sunday, 18-20 September 1981, more than 300 were known to have been executed." [See appendix.] Most of those executed were activists in the democratic movement.

Since June 1981, when the regime decided to try to eliminate its opposition once and for all, some 4,000 patriots have been executed, so this document is both dated and partial. Information has been compiled from various progressive newspapers and especially the organs of two Iranian revolutionary left organizations, the Fedaii and the Mojahedin. The Mojahedin in particular have lost many activists to the firing squads.

But we know that where there is repression there is also resistance. The Iranian people, like peoples everywhere, will not allow this pattern of crimes to go unchallenged. Indeed, resistance to the regime seems to be growing. The Iranian people did not go through nearly two years of bloody struggle against the shah's dictatorship, just to be faced with another one, albeit under an "Islamic" guise. The torture and execution of their compatriots, who are guilty only of wanting to defend and extend the gains of the revolution, will not be lost upon the people.

Neither should it be lost upon us.

January 1982

The International Solidarity Front for the Defense of the Iranian People's Democratic Rights (ISF-Iran), which prepared the document, was formed to support the cause of genuine democracy in Iran and to protest in a more organized manner the gross and increasing violation of human rights perpetrated by the Iranian regime against its real (and in some cases, imagined) opponents. We cannot remain silent in the face of the actions of the Islamic Republic, which is an abysmal one. Almost from its inception, the Islamic regime has moved to suppress the most elementary democratic rights of individuals and peoples (such as the national minorities) until, at this time, virtually none remains. There is no such thing as due process, let alone the right to appeal; "trials" are anything but fair, and there is no effective presumption that defendants are innocent until proven guilty. Arrests, "trials" and executions can be and often are carried out in the same day. For example, an official announcement broadcast over Tehran radio on 20 September 1981, said that two people "intending to demonstrate in the streets of Tehran" were arrested at 1600 hours and taken to Tehran's Evin prison. At 2000 hours, according to the announcement, the sentence of death was passed and they were executed. Such summary executions are widespread.

Warrants for searches or arrests are unheard of, and people can be nabbed on the streets simply because they look "suspicious", taken to a prison and tortured in the hideous and by now systematic way that all political prisoners are treated — just as they were under the shah. The regime will not tolerate any criticism. Any open or public display of protest or criticism of the regime is dealt with swiftly, harshly, and often violently.

INTRODUCTION

Research devoted to the study of human rights violations is not a pleasant task. Going through piles of information in search of more instances of arbitrary arrest, torture and execution can become almost intolerable, if only because there seems to be no end to such abuses. Human rights activists are also aware that many people find it difficult to read reports about such practices. However, a more dangerous prospect is that of people becoming jaded, passive when confronted with a flood of information, and unable to respond with outrage and action. In the face of all the truly appalling things that go on around us, however, human societies have not reached the point where evil is regarded as banal. People do respond to the needs of others, they respond to appeals for support of those facing extreme forms of oppression, and they raise their voices in protest. And so, with this document, we too are making a contribution to the all-too-abundant literature on crimes that governments commit against their own citizens (and others). We do so for two reasons. One is that we will not allow the victims of the regime's terror to remain anonymous, nameless and without identity; nor will we allow them to be forgotten. We are determined that their deaths will not have been in vain. The second reason is that we hope that such precise documentation of the executions, which have already been reported in the international press, and discussed in more detail by Amnesty International, will sway those who have not yet decided about the character of the present regime in Iran. By presenting this list of names of Iranian patriots executed between the months of June and December 1981, we hope that readers will be moved to raise their voices in protest and join the growing international movement condemning the anti-democratic regime of the Islamic Republic of Iran.

Dear friends, we should not forget what Bertolt Brecht said:

"Indeed we live in the dark ages!
A guileless word is an absurdity.
A smooth forehead betokens
A hard heart. He who laughs
Has not yet heard
the terrible tidings."
